

Please carefully inspect your child's head at least once a month, if not more often. As in all schools in warm climates, we constantly battle head lice and hate to send children home to miss school. All students sent home with lice and/or nits must be treated and returned the following morning to be rechecked. If the student fails to come in, this will be counted as an unexcused absence. If they come in to be rechecked and they are not cleared, it will be counted as an excused absence. The student will then be instructed to go home with their parents and be re-examined the next day.
